

TRENDING NOW SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Articles that appear in Trending Now are short blurbs that report on news readers and writers care about. Kirkus does not report the publishing industry's business news, write about sales that agents make to editors, or routinely cover bookstore events. Major acquisitions will be considered for coverage in Trending Now, as will books that are optioned for film. If only those who work in the publishing industry would be interested in a particular topic, it will probably not be written about in Trending Now, but if the news event would engage readers, then Kirkus is more likely to report on that news. Press releases and ideas for Trending Now articles should be emailed to features editor, Claiborne Smith at csmith@kirkus.com.